

Charlottesville

12/2/2025

- The emergency management coordinator builds and maintains the city's ability to prepare for, respond to, and recover from emergencies. They develop and update plans, run training and exercises, coordinate with local, state, and federal partners, and manage the city's emergency operations during incidents. Their job is to make sure all departments and partners work together so the community can withstand and recover from disruptions.

Foundational Emergency Plans

- The Emergency Operations Plan (EOP)
- Continuity Plans – Citywide and Departmental

Activating Our Plans and EOC

- Emergency Notifications
- The Emergency Operations Center (EOC)
- City Multi Agency Coordination (MAC) Group
- Regional MAC
- Keeping leaders and officials informed during a disaster

Investing in our capabilities

- Development of the City's Incident Management Team
- Training EOC Staff Members
- Practicing at all levels – conducting exercises

Key Takeaways

- Building resilience through personal and community preparedness.
- Importance of the EOP and our Continuity Plans
- When disaster strikes – you have a vital role in communicating with our community and managing expectations.

Charlottesville