

Charlottesville

12/2/2025

The seal of the University of North Carolina at Charlotte is a circular emblem. It is divided into four quadrants by a cross. The top-left quadrant features a classical building with columns. The top-right quadrant contains a five-petaled flower. The bottom-left quadrant shows a plow. The bottom-right quadrant depicts an open book. The words "CHARLOTTEVILLE" are arched across the top, and "VIRGINIA - 1762" are arched across the bottom.

- [illegible]

Foundational Emergency Plans

- The Emergency Operations Plan (EOP)
- Continuity Plans – Citywide and Departmental

Investing in our capabilities

- Development of the City's Incident Management Team
- Training EOC Staff Members
- Practicing at all levels – conducting exercises

Activating Our Plans and EOC

- Emergency Notifications
 - City Multi Agency Coordination (MAC) Group
 - The Emergency Operations Center (EOC) Staff
 - Regional MAC (as necessary)
- Keeping leaders and officials informed during a disaster

Key Takeaways

- Importance of the EOP and our Continuity Plans
- Departments and Staff members are making a significant commitment to Emergency Management training and development over the next year.
- Importance of building resilience through personal and community preparedness.
- When disaster strikes – Council has a vital role in connecting with our community and managing expectations.

Charlottesville